P. T. A.

The regular monthly meeting of the Maroa High School P. T. A. met at the high school on Tuesday evening, January 11, at 7:45 P. M.

Mrs. Cotton, who was program chairman for the meeting, had a very interesting and instructive program including a piano duet by Eleanor Rainey and Isabel Farr-el and a vocal solo by Jean Himes. Following this Mr. Will Heinlie of the Decatur High School faculty gave an illustrated travelogue of his travels in European countries.

The next meeting which is the Founders' Day program is in charge of Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Cox.

JUNIOR CLASS PLAN BANQUET

The junior class has started thinking about entertaining the seniors and have progressed quite rapidly. In a class meeting held recently it was voted to have the banquet away.

Monday, January 17, Miss Ulmer, Betty Breighner, Harriet Morgan, Bonnie J. Reiter, and Coulter Larson went to Decatur to look things over. They haven't quite decided where to have it, but when they do they are going to try to keep it secret until invitations are issued. The date has been set for May 14.

Good luck to you--juniors!!

SCIENCE DISPLAY

The display which Mr. Swan has in the laboratory contains the products from two different Texas oil wells, the liquid products being various lubricating oils, fuels, waxes, and the solid products ranging from axle grease to paraffin. It is very complete, accompanied by a clear description. The display cost the school nothing and proves very educational and interesting for the advanced science classes.

Some of the well known products obtained from petroleum, in the order of their volatility: naphtha, gasoline, benzine, kerosene, fuel oil, and lubricating oils. The solid products removed by chilling are various high grade waxes of which chewing gum is a product, also asphalt, cup grease, other heavy duty engine greases, and household paraffin.

The accompanying manuscript also describes in detail the refining process.

HEALTH TALK

Mrs. Wood of the State Department of Health gave an inspiring talk to a very attentive student body Monday, January 24. The name of her talk was "Facing Life", the subject "Social Hygiene." This topic is well worth many hours of discussion.

Mrs. Wood suggested that every student read the book, "Being Born", by Strein, which deals with social hygiene. After her talk some pamphlets were available for free distribution.

Mrs. Wood also spoke to the parents Monday night at P. T. A.

Every one has held by her inspirational ideals and our thanks go to both Mrs. Wood and the Hi-Tri girls, who sponsored the assembly program.

Both Mrs. Wood and Miss Bennett, the county school nurse, complimented us for our fine spirit and attention-----Keep it up, M. C. H. S'ers.

HOME COMING-----FEBRUARY 5

Due to the fact that Hammond, our scheduled homecoming opponents were not able to have a football team, we were forced to reserve a basketball game for our homecoming.

The Leroy basketball team was chosen for our homecoming and will come here on Saturday, February 5, to test their skill against our team.

After the game there will be a party, with various entertainments for the student body and alumni; the faculty and board members are also invited.

We especially wish to welcome all alumni and we sincerely hope that they will attend.

Coming Attractions

"The Mystery of Edwin Drud", a mystery novel by Charles Dickens, will be shown in the H.S. Gym, Feb. 10. This motion picture talkie will be the second in the new series of more up-to-date showings. Others appearing soon are "Great Expectations", and "Sign of the Cross". The latter is planned to be shown around Easter.

"Pecks' Bad Boy", the first of the new series, was attended by a larger crowd than any other showing. This crowd made possible more clearing of money, and the more money cleared, the better the shows will be in the future.

Standard Bearer Meeting

The Standard Bearers met Tuesday evening, January 4, at the home of Mrs. Keyes.

The girls continued their study of Mohammedanism. Devotion was led by Eileen Stonebraker. The program was a Moslem play given by Myrna Morgan and Mildred Bricker. Mrs. Keyes told about the goals already fulfilled, and plans were made to complete the remaining ones.

Delightful refreshments of cheese salad on lettuce, crackers, fruit salad, cookies, fruit punch and nuts were served by the hostess.

All the girls enjoyed the evening.

Epworth League Party

The Epworth Leaguers enjoyed a potluck supper at the church on Monday evening, December 27.

G. A. A. Banquet

The G. A. A. girls had a delightful time at their banquet which was held in the H. S. gymnasium on Thursday evening, January 7.

The girls played games, each one doing whatever she desired. Basketball, table tennis, table pool, and dancing were among the games those enjoyed.

The dinner was quite informal. The menu consisted of meat loaf, sandwiches, potato chips, scalloped corn, macaroni and cheese, baked beans, potato salad, olives, fruit salad, and cake.

The girls departed quite early.

Hi-Y Banquet

The Hi-Y boys enjoyed a chili supper at the high school, Monday evening, January 10.

After they had installed their new members, the boys participated in various forms of recreation.

County 4-H Party

Several 4-H members from the Maroa clubs attended the annual county Christmas party in Decatur. After a period of group singing led by Mrs. V. A. Leach, the members enjoyed folk dances led by Gerald Parish and Everett Brown.

Refreshments were newlyweds.

4-H Party

Fourteen members of the Party-a-Month 4-H club enjoyed a sports party Saturday evening, January 15, at the home of Ruth

"There's that man with his first aid supplies again," someone remarked at the end of the first quarter. "He really stays with his job."

You bet he stays with his job. He's one swell pal, our football and basketball manager----- John Roy. There he is with his towels and water as soon as the time signal is given. Yes, sir, he always comes around at just the right time. When the class period begins to get dull and monotonous, here comes John Roy, with a piece of yellow paper in his hand and a smile on his face, which tells us that it is an announcement. Last year he was a member of the office force and is again this year. He is also a member of various organizations, such as, Hi-Y and glee club.

And, another thing, he really rolls in the ads for the Blue and Gold. A better business manager we couldn't wish for.

He has won the approval of the faculty and student body by his interest and help in high school affairs.

We probably don't realize it now, but next year, when John Roy isn't here any more, we're going to miss him.

Here's to our Hi-Tri Treasurer, one of the best ever--Eva Albert! She really gets the dues out of the members. But, no wonder, because she jumps us for them quite frequently.

While Eva is a very good treasurer, this isn't all the credit we give her. She is also a member of other clubs and organizations. For three years she has been a member of G.A.A. For some odd reason (we don't know what), Eva has never belonged to glee club. Maybe she just isn't interested, but, anyhow, that's not important.

Just remember that we'll never have a better Hi-Tri treasurer.

She has a pleasant personality and a host of friends.

Band Prepares for First Concert in '38

Soon the opening of the gymnasium will take place. It is then that the band will present its first concert for 1938. All the young musicians are anxiously looking forward to this event. They have practiced long and hard and have added several new numbers to their repertoire.

The newest addition is the required class C band contest number "Soldier of Fortune", by Hildreth. Director Thompson states that this selection is the best contest number since the days when "Silver Cord", "One Beautiful day", and "The Trojan Prince" were at their zenith.

In a bulletin received by Mr. Thompson, the band contest is to be held at Quincy during the last week of March this year.

We have the pleasure of having again a glee club organization directed by Miss Bell. As I talked with her she told me that this association was divided into two parts called "Junior" and "Senior" clubs. These names are not the permanent ones as the meetings have been held so as to choose more appropriate names for the groups.

The interest of the girls to take part in the glee club was demonstrated very soon because the fixed number of membership was reached. Any other girl cannot enter this club until there is a vacancy. A girl loses her membership when she has been absent three times without an excuse.

The Eternal Feminine

When a piercing shriek of "Oh, my God!" broke off a matter-of-fact telephone conversation between Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Segal, the husband, terrified by the ensuing silence, called the police.

Fifteen police, armed with shotguns, sped to the house and found an unconscious woman beside a dangling telephone. Revived, Mrs. Segal gasped: "He's still here in the house. He maybe under a bed, or maybe in a closet. But he's still here. He ran right up to me....."

"What did he look like?" interrupted Sergeant McBride.

"Why, he looked like--like any other mouse, I guess--only more so."

Self-Interest

Lincoln and his law-partner, Herndon, jogging along a muddy road in an old buggy through pouring rain, were discussing a point of philosophy---whether there is such a thing as a disinterested, unselfish act. Lincoln said no; Herndon argued that there are such acts.

They passed a pig caught in a crack of an old rail fence, squealing for dear life. A little farther on, Lincoln, who was driving, stopped the buggy, got out and let the pig loose. When he climbed back in, his feet were muddy, his clothes wet, his hat dripping.

"There now," said Herndon. "In spite of your fine logic you have proved my point. Why get out in the mud and let that silly pig out when he would have wiggled his way out anyhow?"

"It was a purely selfish act," said Lincoln. "If I hadn't I would not have slept a wink tonight; his squeal would have echoed in my dreams. He might have wiggled his way out, but I wouldn't have known it. I win the case."

Travels of a French Fried Potato:

In your mouth a few minutes, in your stomach a few hours, on your hips the rest of your life.

Exception: A war cloud has no silver lining.

No horse can go as fast as the money you bet on him.

You can read some people like a book, but you can't shut them up as easily.

Waiters, of course, are not in a position to snap back at ill-bred guests: but one English headwaiter once made the perfect retort to an uncouth customer:

"My position, Sir," he said, "does not allow me to argue with you; but if it ever came to a choice of weapons, I would choose grammar."

Haven't You?

Have you ever wished that you
would always pass,
And that pink slips didn't follow
Missing class?
Or that teachers' hearts were softer
Or that Saturdays come oftener?
Now haven't you?

Have you ever planned to finish
all work,
And declared that duty you would never shrink?
But the scheme was such a joke
That you finally gave up hope?

Now haven't you?

Have you ever thought it best that
you reform,
For your alibis are getting worn?
But when spring begins to call,
Then your resolutions fall?
Now didn't they?

My Masterpiece

Can you or anyone imagine
How the world has pined to see
The piece of art that I will write
In form of poetry.

I tear my hair in anguish
And I bite my pen in to;
As I try to think of topics
That are interesting and new.

I might be Kilmer, Junios
And write about a tree;
Or Bobby Burns, and versify
The romance of a flea.

Like Walter Scott, I might describe
Some gory gallant masses:
Instead of Bonny Scotland
I could use Maroa's lasses.

I haven't yet succeeded,
For I sit up long and late
Doing useless themes and lessons,
So the world will have to wait.

THE VALUE OF ATHLETICS

Recently we had an interesting discussion in Hi-Y regarding the values of inter-school athletics. Many intelligent and interesting opinions were presented. The educational value of athletics was mentioned; the physical dangers confronted were mentioned; the idea of athletics fulfilling a national desire for play and competition was also brought out. I would like to stress the reasons why our present day athletics are so important in the "Complete education" picture.

Present day living methods create a need for something in education which places value upon a strong, sturdy, energetic physique as well as the development of mental energy. Modern athletics hope to produce mental energy in greater quantities and no longer aims at production of big muscles. Living today demands a great amount of nervous energy.

Athletics present one of the best opportunities for the teaching and testing of courage, determination, loyalty, perseverance, unselfishness, self control, devotion to a cause and an organization. They present an opportunity to bring out the best a boy has in him, put iron in his blood and starch in his backbone.

Athletics present one of the best needs in the field of education today--as a means of evaluating the quality of sportsmanship and all that ~~that~~ means in terms of character and chivalry.

If students try to take out of athletics the rigorous training, the painstaking preparation, concentration of effort, they take away the sources from which come character and morale.

The following question is asked by small boys of coaches in every community: "If I get plenty of exercise, plenty of sleep, eat the things mother and teacher say are best, never smoke or drink, always play hard and fair, do you think that when I grow up I'll be able to make the team?" That question is easy to answer.

It is fortunate that we can have in our educational system games that every boy, big or little, will know nothing but the best he has in him will satisfy.

I believe athletics have values that no able bodied boy can afford to miss.

Coach England

Athletic sports have physical values but these values pale almost into insignificance when compared with these greater values which come from athletics at their best. Values not only of higher significance to the individual than physical powers or a healthy body but values which mould character and determine the strength of our National Civilization--self-control, self reliance, cooperation, courage and honor.

If you think you're beaten--you are;

If you think you dare not, you don't

If you want to win, but think you can't

Its ten to one you won't.

NIANTIC CONQUERS ARGENTA IN FINAL TILT

MACON COUNTY TOURNAMENT

January 27, 28, 29th saw the greatest basketball tournament ever staged by the Macon County Athletic Association. The tournament was the most successful ever staged from a financial standpoint. The brand of basketball played by competing schools was considerably above standard.

Niantic proved to be the class of the group. Their smooth ball handling, and cool thinking along with a better than average eye for the basket gave them the first place trophy.

Argenta's tall squad lacked the polish displayed by Niantic and coupled with a harder tournament schedule were losers in the final, but deserved their second place rating.

After getting off on the right foot against Mt. Zions' zone defense the Blue and Gold Cagers began to lose their aggressiveness in some key positions. This, coupled with the fact that several boys turned in a miserable job of shooting apparently easy shots, brought about a 23-22 defeat to our boys.

The big problem facing county officials now is--where to economically hold the meet that the fans may have adequate room?

Coach England

If you think you'll lose--you've lost;;
For in this old world you'll find find Success begins with a dominant will---
And an optimistic mind.

Do your best, your very best,
And do it every day---
Big boys and big girls,
That is the wisest way.

Mt. Zion Nips Maroa in Tournament

The eleventh annual Macon County basketball tournament was held at Blue Mound, Jan. 28, 28, 29 Maroa lost the first game to Mt. Zion.

Maroa gained an early lead and led at the half, 13-7. However Mt. Zion seemed to be good on the one-handed shots and at the end of the third quarter the two teams were tied, 15-15. When only two minutes were left to play, the score was again even, 19-19. Mt. Zion then slid in a free throw and a one-handed shot. In the last 20 seconds Cox made a long basket to total the score.

What's this I hear about Marca? They are kind of falling down on the job, aren't they?
Why don't you boosters get some pep into you? Just because the team fell a little, don't let the boys down. You're surely not good sports if you do that.
We have a good team if it has some backing. After all, the team isn't all there is to sports the students have to be in the front line yelling for all they are worth before a team will push themselves to a victory.
Let's all be at the home-coming

Marca come through to victory with her colors flying. Always remember:

"It is not the guns or armament
Or the money they can pay;
It's the close cooperation
That makes them win the day.
It is not the individual
Or the army as a whole,

Bill Hicks: "Mama, what becomes of a car when it gets too old to run any more?"

Mother: "Why, somebody sells it to your father, dear, as a used car as good as new."

John Roy: "Oh! I wish I had come here about a week ago."

Florence: "Why?"

John Roy: "I should have preferred to eat this hash then instead of now."

Bob F.: "Congratulations, old top." Just heard about you and Eleanor. How long have you been engaged?"

Lloyd: "Two weeks."

Bob: "Have you kissed her yet?"

Lloyd: "No, but I think I could."

J.W.: "You must learn to economize."

Elva: "Well, haven't I been going without the necessities so as to spend it on the luxuries?"

Librarian: "We are going to close the desk now. Is there anything you want to take out?"

Freshman: "Yes, how about the short one in the blue dress."

Baldy: "Your wife is a blond, isn't she?"

King David: "I don't know; she had an appointment this morning."

Bonnie J.: "I will paint a speaking likeness of your wife for only twenty-five dollars, sir."

Coach E.: "Make it silent and I'll pay fifty."

Mother: "Wouldn't you like to hold the baby?"

Sea Captain: "No, thanks."

Mother: "Why, don't you like babies?"

Sea Captain: "Yes, but the last time I held it, it got seasick!"

Eva: "My boy friend has been nursing a grouch all week."

Lois: "Been laid up, have you?"

Paul: "What can mooses have that no other animals can have?"
Mr. Hensley: "Convention in Detroit!"

Virginia J.: "That chicken we had for dinner today was hatched by an incubator all right."

Martha: "How do you know?"

Virginia: "No chicken that ever knew a mother's love could ever grow up to be as tough as that."

John L.: "It was a great day for me when I won that shooting match."

Charles Mc: "How come?"

John L.: "Everyone came in who owed me and paid me."

Mr. Keyes (to Coulter L., late again): "You should have been here at 8:15."

Coulter: "Why, what happened?"

Theatre Manager: "How did you get in here?"

Dick K: "Free. It says on the door, 'No admission to Children!'"

Cop: "You certainly were."
J. Eakle: "Why?"
Cop: "Because his father's the mayor, his brother's the chief of police, and I'm engaged to his sister."

Mrs. Smith: "I don't think the man upstairs likes to have Nelson play on his drum."
Mr. Smith: "Why?"
Mrs. Smith: "Well, this afternoon he gave Nelson a knife and asked him if he knew what was inside the drum."

Mrs. Keyes: "I suppose they ask a lot for the rent of this sumptuous apartment."
Mrs. England: "Yes, they asked Forest seven times last month."

Mr. Swan was puzzled: "Hey," he called to Lloyd Clary, "put your hand on one of those wires."
Lloyd did as he was told.
"Feel anything?"
"No."
"Good", said Mr. Swan. "I wasn't sure which was which. Don't touch the other one or you'll drop dead."

"Archimedes", read John L. H. aloud
"leaped from his bath shouting, 'Eureka! Eureka!'"
"One moment," said Mr. England.
"What is the meaning of 'Eureka?'"
"'Eureka' means 'I have found it.'"
"Very well. What had Archimedes found?"
John L. hesitated, then ventured, hopefully: "The soap, sir."

Miss Flugum (reading): "It says here they have found sheep in the Himalaya Mountains that can run forty miles an hour."
Bobby Nick H.: "Well, it would take a lamb like that to follow Mary nowadays."

Myrna M.: "Did you enjoy your vacation?"
Mr. Keyes: "Yes, but there's nothing like the feel of a good desk under your feet!"

Signor Mussolini was stranded in a small town because of the breakdown of his motor. He went into the local cinema. His picture came onto the screen. Everybody rose, but he remained seated. The proprietor of the place touched him on the shoulder and said: "I feel that way, too. But you had better stand up. It is safer."

Pete Haliski: "Did you ever hear about the two holes in the ground?"
Danial McCormick: "No."
Pete: "Well, well."

4 A.M. Deacon Jones dead

AUDREY

Dear Agatha,

There isn't so much going on right now, not much, just plans for the Jr.-Sr. banquet and semesters'. Everyone is all excited over dates now--whom they want to go with and whom they are going with. I shall make a stab at who will probably go with whom, but I am getting it from junior sources so don't blame me if I'm wrong. "Swede" has asked Bonnie Jean but she hasn't given him her answer yet. She wants a date with Perkins, I believe, since she has been going with him some lately, but she seems to be afraid he is going to ask Mary Ashford. I suppose Jimmie and Josephine will be there together. We've heard Pete Haliski has asked Helen A. but she says he hasn't. I also heard that Aileen Pennypacker would give anything to go with Bob C. Naturally Norma and Floyd will be together. Allan P. and Nigel O. will probably go together. They have been seen an awful lot together. Harriet wants to go with Sam, so some one told me. Maybe some more dates will turn up later, but at the present these are all I have heard of, except for a few senior dates. But I nearly forgot. There will be Lyle for the junior sponsor, and I believe Mr. Hensey is inviting some one.

Now for some of our seniors. There are the other twins, Lloyd and Eleanor, Elva and J. W. (it would seem funny not to see them together), and of course Viva and Bob. Myrna just informed me that if the juniors would let her she would like to invite her out-of-town boy-friend. There are a lot more girls waiting for you boys to hurry up and ask them to go to the banquet with them so you guys had better hurry up.

Let's forget the banquet for awhile and hear some just everyday scoop. Eva and Greg were having a reunion in the office the other evening. Eva blushes an awful lot when you say anything about it to her, but she seems pretty pleased about it too. But for awhile she is going to hang onto the Chrysler and the guy that drives it. Bonnie and Jr. Agee, with Harriet and Glenn Q. had a pretty good time at the Niantic basketball game. They also enjoyed the midnite show pretty much New Year's Eve with the same boys. John Roy was well remembered from California. Florence gave him an awfully nice military set. I don't know whether it was a Xmas gift or just a souvenir but it was pretty nice. Lentz has changed girls again. This time he took Harriet M. to a party at Helen A's. Bonnie and Johnnie were there too.

Well, maybe the next time I write to you I can tell you the outcome of the semesters'. I hope everyone does O.K. Until then,

Little Audrey

P. S. Oh, yes, I about forgot; I heard that there are several boys Viva would like to go with but for some reason or other she sticks to the V-8. We wonder if it could be the guy driving it-- or could it?

A freshman does not know, and knows that he does not know.
A sophomore does not know, but does not know that he does not know.
A junior knows, but does not know that he knows.
A senior knows, knows that he knows, and wants every body else to know that he knows.

Mr. Hensey: "Donald, what is raised in countries that have wet climates?"

Don H.: "Umbrellas."

Miss Johnson (in 5th hr. study)
"Bob, I'll have to keep you in after class again!"
"Okay," replied Bob Rainey. "But I'll have you know that half the town says we're going steady!"

Paul Gregory: "So you were graduated from a barber college."

What is your college yell?"
Mr. Swan: "Cut his lip, cut his jaw, leave his face, raw, raw, raw,!"

LAST MINUTE DOPE

We just heard that A certain junior girl, named Orpha Bivens, would like very much to go with a senior boy who drives a little yellow Chevy coupe.

Helen Atkins seemed very interest in a certain someone who lives east of her house and drives a Plymouth.

Bob Pollard would like very much to go with Naomi Cooper, but as circumstances are she seems very much occupied with Pete and Charles.

TOURNAMENT DOPE

J. Eakle and J. Perkins seemed to be very anxious to return to the games on Friday night even though Maroa didn't play. We wonder why!

Pete Thrift is included in the list this time when he was seen with his old Argents flame. They say that "an old flame never dies."

Bob Cox spent the majority of the evening with his Warrensburg prospects. He seemed to be enjoying himself.

LaVerne Cotten had a hard time trying to make up his mind whether to rate with Argents or Blue Mound. I never did hear the exact results.
