Little Audrey

Dear Agatha,

The Maroa track team is off to a good start winning two out of the first three meets. Maroa has a county meet the day of the Prom; I hope they make the Prom in time to eat!

It seems that one of the Maroa High teachers is taking quite a razzing about his bride-to-be, Beryllium. Good luck, L. A.

With five weeks of school left, the seniors are trying to accomplish and complete their remaining problems. But the class President, Gary Archey, has a few problems of his own. He has been trying to decide all year whether it is a shorter distance to Forsyth or Chicago; whether or not he decides will still not solve his problem, because his "ole" car wouldn't make it to either place anyway!

Maroa has gained a new club, the "Webs", an organized drinking club "milk" I presume.

There is a rumor about the school that certain members of the chemistry class have been napping during films. Let's pay attention kids, even though the films aren't too interesting.

Marriage is becoming quite popular at Maroa High, according to Card Jean, Juanita, and Judy--Good luck girls, you'll need it.

A few of the Maroa boys are preparing for summer by getting their tops chopped, right D. L., J. E., and L. M.???

Yours truly,

Little Audrey

If you want to live more you must master the art of appreciating the little, everyday blessings of life.. This is not altogether a golden world, but there are countless gleams of gold to be discovered in it if we give our minds to them.
