Maroa-Forsyth High School Maroa, Illinois

November 1967

Penny Butler "Miss Merry Christmas" candidate from the Junior class.

The Pick of

Santa's Pack

Penny Butler is MFHS's charming representative in the Miss Merry Christmas Pageant, sponsored by the Clinton merchants. She is rather short, has long brown hair, and a few very pretty freckles. GAA, FHA, and Trojanetts are some of her extra-curricular activities.

The contestants first meeting was Saturday, October 14. There were representatives from the surrounding area schools. Some of their characters seemed rather tough compared to Penny's, who is a kind, quiet, and wonderful person.

The tickets were issued to the contestants at this meeting. The tickets sell for a dollar and are sold for Introduction Night at the Variety Show. Miss Merry Christmas is determined by voting at the door. If the ticket is purchased in advance, it is worth two votes, and if purchased at the door it is worth one vote.

Some of Penny's duties as a candidate are to attend rehearsals, the two evening shows, and the Christmas Parade. The Introduction Night is to present to the public the candidates. This was November 4. The Variety Show displays the talent of the community. This will take place November 20. The big day is November 20. On this day Miss Merry Christmas will be crowned at the annual Christmas Parade at Clinton.

Joyce Chalcraft, who was chosen as a candidate from the Senior Class has declined because of date conflicts.

She asks that all the students back Penny, candidate from the Junior class, and make her MISS MERRY CHRISTMAS of 1967.

Notice: All Juniors pay your dues as soon as possible. Dues are $4.00 and should be paid to Kim Marsh.

Karen Peterson and Russell Groves are new students to M.F.H.S., and members of the Junior Class. We would like to extend a warm welcome and hope that they will enjoy their new high school.

Friendship . . .

The Senior Class wants to welcome back Cindy Shaw. She was absent from school the first six weeks. Cindy was in the hospital in Missouri during this time.

Cindy adds much enthusiasm to our class and we want to let her know how much we missed her. She always puts that extra UMPH into the projects our class does. Cindy is now participating in the Senior Play.

Its good to have you back Cindy.

Ron Edgecombe and David Warner, FFA officers, admire trophies recently won at the Dewitt County Field Day.

Happy Thanksgiving

Hi, For the last week my family has been in mourning. The other day my second cousin Hubert was assassinated in 3rd hour P. E. Class, with a deadly waste basket, by one called Mrs. Berry. The poor guy had just moved here and was lost He ended up in the locker room at shower time. I wonder if you all would "squeak" when you walk by the P.E. office just to remind HER of our great loss of great Hubert.

Now to a happier subject. I crawled into Margo's pocket when she went to WAND with Tудie and Kathy. I tried to help them with some of the quiz answers. We almost "squeaked" by.

I'm sure glad I didn't have to go through Frosh initiation. It was a mess. The Student Council did a great job, though.

Since everyone thinks they should be a philosopher, now, I would like to throw in my 2¢ worth by passing this bit of philosophy on to several students:

There was an old owl Who lived in an oak The more he heard The less he spoke. The less he spoke The more he heard Why aren't we Like that old bird. In other words; shut up and you'll learn more.

SENIORS

October 24 through October 27 was dress up week or "Senior Week" here at MFHS. A special salute should go to the boys who made an outstanding show. Even Mr. Wood commented that sometimes he had to look twice to make sure it wasn't a teacher going down the hall.

October 30 through November 3 was initiation for freshmen and new students. The Seniors were in the height of our glory making the lowly wormlike "freshies" say the Creed to the "almighty ones", the great Class of '68!

The Seniors are hard at work on the play, "Mother Is A Freshman" which will be presented November 17 and 18. We would like to invite students and faculty to attend this funny play.

The Air Force aptitude test was a challenge. The test was mainly for boys; therefore most of the girls were a little in the dark. It was a "fun" test compared to most aptitude or educational tests.

The Seniors plan on having a nice Thanksgiving and wish you one, too.

In regard to the confusion about overdues, the fines are: 1) over due books - 1¢ a day (Sundays and holidays included.) 2) over due reference books - 10¢ a night and 1¢ a period. 3) over due magazines 10¢ a night and 1¢ a class period. Copies of library rules are on the card catalogue.

The library has acquired some nery good books this year. Here are a few. Behold Your Queen by Gladys Malvern. Ancient Persia is the setting for the adventures of Young Queen Esther, her uncle, Mordecai, King Ahasuerus, and Haman. Court intrigue, danger and courage fill the pager of this biblical story.

Yankee Strangers by Elswyth Thane. The scenes of this novel are set in historic Williamsburg, Virginia. The action moves to Richmond and to Washington during the dreadful years between Fort Sumter and Appomattox. Real-life heroes appear with many fictitious characters.

The Maroa-Forsyth High School Marching Band performed October 28, in the Illinois State University's Homecoming Parade. Everyone seemed to be well pleased with the performance.

Adding color to the band this year are the PomPom Girls and the Twirlers. The Pom-Pom Girls march with the band and along with the twirlers, do various routines to liven up the half-time shows at the football games.

The Pom-Pom Girls are: Ellen Sronce, Captain, Teresa Deloney, Jean Hockaday, Cathy Price, Kathy Schultz, Marilyn Boomer, Penny Butler, MaryLou Schroll. Nancy Himes is the Captain of the Twirlers. The other Twirlers are: Cindy Boland, Rhonda Austin, and Donna Leslie. And last but not least, by any means, is the Drum Majorette, Carole Halicki, who leads the band at parades and for the football game entertainment.

The beginning of concert band season is close at hand. The band gives concerts as well as providing good entertainment at the basketball games and going to contests.

Girls'

Athletic Association

The 1967-68 G.A.A. archery team placed fifth in the state tournament this year.

The team members whose scores were turned in for the tournament were:

- Belinda Leach-322
Carole Halicki-276
Brenda Morgret-257
Judy Kennison-225
Penny Doolen-224

Total team points-1304 There were 26 schools entered in the tournament so we should be proud of these girls.

The G.A.A. Board has decided on this year's initiation activities for its new freshmen members. They will be required to wear their P.E. blouses which will be tucked in their skirts. Also they are to wear two different socks with no hose and some kind of boots that do not fit. They will wear a swimming cap with the flaps up in class, and any other member of G.A.A. can flip the flaps down during the day of initiation. So everyone has a day of fun to look forward to sometime in the coming future.

For a money-making project the G.A.A. is going to sell sweatshirts. The date on which they will go on sale has not been decided. Several different designs for the sweatshirts have been discussed by the G.A.A. Board. It was suggested to have a picture of our high school on the front of them with Maroa-Forsyth Trojans written under it. Other ideas were a Trojan head again with Maroa-Forsyth Trojans on the front of the sweatshirt or words only on the side. The G.A.A. members will vote on a design. The sweatshirts must be ordered and paid for in advance. Kathy Meyers and Belinda Leach are chairmen of this project.

Eight girls from the Maroa G.A.A. were the guests of the Wapella G.A.A. at a Play Day on October 14. Those who attended were Kathy Schultz, Joann Day, Penny Doolen, Kit Stoutenborough, Beverly Harris, Luann Wikoff, Vicki Price, and Pam Dick. Mrs. Wikoff acted as advisor. Five other schools were also represented. Team sports such as basketball, flickerball, ten-pass and volleyball were played and awards presented.

Life is like a game of cards:

When you're engaged it's ♢'s
When you're married it's ♣'s
When you die it's ♠'s

A kiss is a germ or so it has been stated.-But kiss me quick I'm vaccinated.

Last Thursday in 3d hour Senior English, the Lit books were set aside and instead of discussing the poetry of Robert Burns, the class discussed the rights and privileges of the students of M.F.H.S.

Many people were in favor of having a student lounge, which would be quite a privilege indeed. Some of the students couldn't understand why the Student Council, who is supposed to get things for the students, hadn't already gotten a lounge. Unfortunately, these people don't understand that just wanting something won't get it. There is always the small factor of money, which most small schools don't have for such a project. Our school might have had enough funds for a project of this type, but instead this money must be used to remove paint from the buildings and walls, which a small minority of students felt it was their duty to destroy.

A few years ago, the biggest complaint was that there were no bleachers for the fans to use at home football games. It could be heard, when visiting schools with good bleachers, "Why doesn't our school have some like these?" Well, thanks to a Senior Class who had some remaining funds, bleachers were purchased.--Not a whole lot, but enough.

Maybe the bleachers we have aren't as many or as good as those other schools have, but at least it is a start. So how do people show their appreciation for having a place to watch the game from? They tear down the bleachers, and even damage them. True, it is a very small per cent of students who do these things, but this small percentage speaks louder than the large per cent who try to get things accomplished and improved. For every 20 or so in a school who tries to do something worth while, there is always one who tries to undo everything the 20 have managed to accomplish.

The example of the bleachers may hold true for the student lounge. The bleachers cost money, and so will a lounge. Nothing kept people from destroying the bleachers, and nothing has kept students from writing on the walls and painting the bricks and buildings and carving on the desks. Why spend more money just to give that small percentage of students more things to destroy?

Also discussed in this debate of students rights, was the snake dance. Many wanted it instead of the formal initiation now in effect. The main argument was "What was wrong with the snake dance?" Nobody seemed to remember the mess and damage that resulted because of the last one. Why must things be destructive before they are considered fun?

There are many things every student wants for his or her school. These things are hopes that would like to be realized. I feel that we could acheive many of these hopes for things the students want, but in order to acheive these things we, the students, must prove that we are worthy of having such rights and privileges.

As said before, just wanting something won't produce it. that is why we must work and work together to change our school from a school of destruction, to a school of accomplishment. It can be done, and it should be done, and if everyone is willing and tries, it will be done.

SPIRIT

The Maroa-Forsyth cheerleaders received school jackets and pom pons from the School Board. We appreciate their concern for bettering the school spirit, and we will try harder to promote the school spirit since we know that the School Board is behind us. We are very grateful to the School Board, and we will use the pom pons enthusiastically.

The Student Council has also purchased small shakers, in hopes that the students will use them at the games. We, the cheerleaders, hope that the shakers will be a great boost in promoting S-P-I-R-I-T

A new cheer that the cheerleaders would like everyone to learn is:

TROJAN'S TEAM IS BEST

Trojan's team will meet the test
Trojan's team over all the rest
Trojan's team is best---
YES

The cheerleaders would like everyone to know the purposes of the Pep Club. They are as follows:

- 1. To promote school spirit throughout the student body at school and pep meetings. This could be done by making signs or other projects concerning school spirit and also by giving "pep talks" at pep meetings.
2. To sit together at games and give their support to the team.
3. To set examples of good sportsmanship.
4. The Pep Club should have a part in the pep meetings.
5. To make the best Homecoming Dance possible.
6. To raise money for cheerleaders to go to cheerleading camp and clinic.

fractured

by DAVID LINDSAY

Once upon a time in the days of knighthood there was a land of nine knights. Like most knights they went out seeking fame and fortune in the usual manner such as killing dragons and rescuing damsels in distress. This land of knights who called themselves the Knight Watchmen, were always watching for signs of violence and trouble. During the last year they kept records, they killed two dragons and rescued five ladies--- As you can see, they were a very busy bunch. I have no idea what they did when business was slow, but I do know that they kept a good set of records from which I bring you this story.

It seems that there was a particularly mean dragon named Harold. He has set countless fires and had scared many people half to death. This would not have been so bad, but some of these people were half dead already. Anyway, our nine heroes thought they had Harold cornered when he cut loose and breathed fire all over them. It was so hot that it welded their armor into one piece-- They were trapped! But that's not the end of the story. Out of the night rode a figure on a big white horse, his long blond locks flying in the breeze. His name was Dimpled Davie, and upon hearing their muffled cries, rushed to the rescue. The dragon, after taking one look at Davie, turned and ran away. He was never heard of again. Now all that was left to do was to free the Knight Watchmen before they suffocated. He calmly walked to his horse and got a can opener out of his saddle bags. He then proceeded to cut the nine knights out of their armor. He finished before they suffocated. The knights gave him a rich reward and Dimpled Davie and the nine Knight Watchmen lived happily ever after.

Moral of story: A can opener in time saves nine.

SPORT REVIEW

Team co-captains, Terry Lienhart and Tom Hupp, are shown with Coach Walter Boyd. Tom Hupp was sidelined with injuries and didn't get to play in the Warrensburg game.

Injuries and mistakes cost Trojans four games in a row. Tragedy found a home at Maroa four weeks ago and it has cost the Trojans four straight games. Injuries to several of the Trojans has definitely caused Maroa a lot of trouble. But the main reason the Trojans have lost is due to poor mental thinking. Costly errors have really been popping up against the team. The Trojans have shown great courage when it comes to knocking heads, but it takes a lot of thinking along with plenty of head knocking to win games. The Trojans should bounce back and win their last two games of the season to come out in the finish with a very respectable record.

Here is a quick review of the Trojans last four games.

Assumption invaded Maroa-Forsyth on the Night of October 13. The game was played on a Wednesday night but indeed it was like a Friday the 13th for the Trojans. The Trojans waited too long to rally as they were beaten 14 to 7. It was the second straight defeat for the Trojans. It brought their record to 3 and 2.

The Trojans traveled to Moweaua on a Friday October 20. The game was a must for the Trojans after previously being handed a defeat by Illipolis the week before. The Trojans didn't show much power as Moweaua rolled over them 21-0. This made the Trojans 3-3 over all and 3-2 in the Conference with only two Conference games left.

Our away game to Lovington appeared to be a sure victory at the half with Maroa scoring two touchdowns and holding Lovington scoreless. However, in the 3rd quarter Lovington scored a 45-yard touchdown and kicked the extra point. At the end of the 3rd quarter the score was Maroa 12, Lovington 7. The fourth quarter was the quarter that Lovington scored the decisive touchdown and extra point, leaving the Trojans defeated 14-12.

Bethany vs. Maroa--On Friday night November 3, Bethany High School invaded Maroa. It was a very rainy night and the field was in bad shape. Everyone including the players, were very cold. Maroa jumped off to an early lead and Bethany was never able to catch up. The Trojans touchdowns were scored by Terry Lienhart and Chris Warner. The final score was Maroa 12, Bethany 7. This evened the Trojan record out at four wins and four losses.

An excellent career is over. Terry Lienhart played the last football game of his fabulous career November 10 at Warrensburg. Lienhart has been the main attraction during football season for the past three years. Terry is considered by many people as being one of the finest runners ever to run in the Meridean Conference. Terry has scored approximately twenty-five touchdowns during his great career at Maroa. Terry will be remembered for many years by the fans around the Maroa area. We, the other members of the team, are proud to boast Terry Lienhart as one of our team mates.

Basketball future looks bright. The Trojans have two fine sophomore basketball players in Steve Gillen and Mark Walters. Maroa coaches have been looking for basketball players like Gillen and Walters for many years. Gillen and Walters should team up with juniors John Halicki, Chuck Land and Larry Day and make Maroa a very tough team to beat. Maroa has enough size if they put it to good use. Steve Gillen is 6'4" tall and Mark Walters is 6'2", and John Halicki is 6'2". There is one Senior on the team, 6' jumping-jack, Tom Hupp. If that doesn't make a coach sleep at night, nothing will.

The outlook for this season is pretty bright, and will be the height in the sophomores and juniors, the years coming look even brighter, too.

assembly

Wednesday, October 25, the school was treated to a talent exchange assembly from Macon High School. The Macon Students presented a program displaying their various talents. Everyone cheered joyously for the band under the direction of Mr. Danny K. Thomas. Other acts included a very talented female vocalist, Miss Rachel Lee, who sang "Call Me", "The Battle Song of the Sand Pebbles", and the lead song of the musical "Oliver!". Also performing was Mighty Mary and her Cabaret Band; a folk group singing "Born Free", a Baton Twirler, a Guitarist who played "Pipeline", and two Beatle Hits "Yesterday", and "Michelle", and members of the girls Physical Education Class performing two Modern Dances. The whole group was loudly applauded by students and faculty.

In exchange, we are to take a Talent Assembly to Macon. Nothing definite has been decided yet, however as soon as the time is scheduled at Macon, a date will be set for try outs. It makes no difference if you feel you can not act: any kind of talent and ideas will be greatly appreciated.

For example, dance routines, comedy acts, pantomime, vocal talent duets, solos, trios. Anything you wish to contribute, please do so when the notice is posted.

You are sure to have great fun with this program. Come with the attitude of willingness, and a little bit of energy for work. Also be ready with ideas and good imagination. We want this assembly to show that even WE have talent!

Future Homemakers of America

The Viet Nam project sponsored by the F. H. A. proved to be very successful. Forty-five packages of useful items were sent to servicemen in De Nang. Cash donations were used to help pay for the shipping charges. Letters are now being received by several girls who sent their addresses along with the packages. The hospital has not received all of them.

The packages were deeply appreciated by the men. Many thanks to everyone who helped with this project.

"Hot Lunch Program"

F. H. A. will sponsored a Fall Hot Lunch Nov. 8, 9 and 10. These were served in the Home Ec room.

A. girls, who are taking the Junior Degree, has an assignment. Some of the girls are fixing the showcase by the Home Ec room, and some have done a really good job on the bulletin boards. Three of the girls will serve refreshments at an F. H. A. meeting while others are putting articles in newspapers.

The first test will be on Nov. 16. The second test, for those girls who have G. A. A. on Friday, will be on Nov. 21. There will be an announcement for the girls who have G. A. A. on Friday.

SENIOR PLAY

"MOTHER IS A FRESHMAN"

Curtain Going Up!!

In the last edition of the paper we told you about tryouts for the play. Now, since the cast has been chosen and everything is in full swing, we'd like to tell you a little bit about what is going on.

Mrs. Wood has chosen the following cast: Kathy Christman has the lead again this year as Mrs. Abigail Abbott; Randy Lienhart is playing opposite her as Professor Daniel Michaels; Peggy Atchison plays Mrs. Abbott's daughter Susan; students that attend the same school are Renee Stoutenborough as Carrie; Margo Johnson as Helen Gurke; Carole Halicki as Bunny; (just Bunny-not A bunny), Ellen Sronce is Clara; Kathy Schultz as Sylvia; Cindy Boland is Marge; Jim Leach is Jack; David Lindsay is Bill; Alan Shookman is Howie; Robbie Cox is BOBO; Penny Doolen is a very capable house mother; and Bill Cook is the almighty Dean of this crew.

As a very able student director we have Linda "Tudie" Meador. Cindy Boland also helps with the student director when she isn't on stage. We sure couldn't do without them.

Of course, the cast is very important, but we could never put on a play without the people behind the curtains. They deserve the credit for a really good production. We have this year Joyce Jaco as technical director and prompter. Nola Dowell is also a prompter. Many people that work behind the scenes didn't get in on all the early confusion but they work very hard in the later stages of producing the play.

Now you know who is in the play and who works with the play, but now we'd like to really let you in on the "BEHIND THE SCENES" action.

Every night we have practice from 7:00 or 7:30 until 9:00 or 9:30. Just imagine how much time for studying this leaves us. As you can guess it hardly even gets done.

While we are practicing we usually have a smorgasbord of anything that anyone brings to eat. Believe me, lines really come out messy when they are mixed with potato chips or Polish pickles.

Of course, we don't always sit around and eat. Sometimes we build pyramids, we're really getting good at them this year. We also play cards and have a gay ol' time.

This all sounds like fun but there is a lot of work to putting on a play and doing it right. Mrs. Wood is a really great director. We really appreciate her time and effort. We hope you all come to the play to see how hard she has made us work and how good a job she has done. Come and see the people behind the scenes who have really worked hard, too. Most of all come and see how you'd feel if you found out your "Mother is a Freshman."

Here's the list from the Bursar's Office Mrs. Miller.

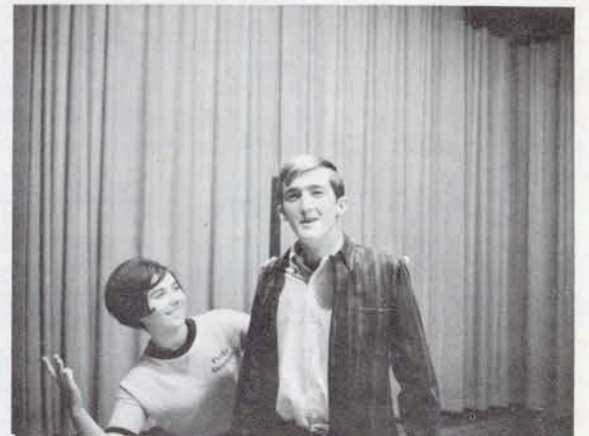

If I catch you with curlers once more....

I've got Marge for a roommate again!

The people working on publicity are: Marilyn Boomer, Rosie Grimm, and Paulette Porter. The make-up crew is: Cathy Marshall, Joanne Woolums, Debbie Norman, Nola Dowell, and Paulette Porter. Business Manager is Mary Mayberry. On lighting are Bill Little and Stan Brelsford. Cindy Shaw is in charge of Props.

Do you think it's heredity or account of my glands?

Student director and prompters

I'm going to attend college with you, Susan.

Backstage

Time out from practice (from left to right) to eat- to build pyramids- to eat again-and oops!
